WHAT DOES SUCCESS LOOK LIKE?

BY 2033:

South Carolina is recognized nationally and globally as the decisive theater in the southern campaign enabling American independence.

Every South Carolinian voice is included in our collective history, and that history is indelibly imprinted into our state and national history curriculum and freely available to all.

Resilient cultural and heritage tourism opportunities are flourishing in every SC county.

SC remains committed to sustain our patriotic momentum beyond 2033 to the Tricentennial and into perpetuity; expanding the knowledge, appreciation and blessings of our independence won in the American Revolution to all our citizens.

LINEs OF EFFORT | GOALS & OBJECTIVES

LOE 1

ENHANCE

knowledge and understanding of the American Revolution's lasting impact in South Carolina through educational programs.

LOE 2

ENSURE

the preservation of sites, artifacts, and ideas connecting the American Revolution to South Carolina today and beyond.

LOE 3

EQUIP

stakeholders with resources to facilitate activities across South Carolina.

SC250 Grant Programs:

Thomas Heyward, Jr (1746 - 1807) was the eldest son of Daniel Heyward, the wealthiest planter in the Beaufort District at the time of the American Revolution. Heyward studied law in England, returned to South Carolina and practiced law. In 1776 Heyward became one of the South Carolina delegates to the Second Continental Congress. He was one of South Carolina's four signers of the Declaration of Independence. During the war he was active in military operations and was a prisoner of the British for over a year. After the revolution Heyward participated in the convention which crafted South Carolina's Constitution. He was born and died at the traditional family home, Old House Plantation, which was burned in 1864. Heyward's grave is in the family cemetery near the ruins of the house. The Heywood family remained prominent in South Carolina and one of his descendants, Dubose Heyward, received national distinction as the author of the novel Porgy which was later adopted by George Gershwin into the opera Porgy and Bess.

Purysburg

In the spring of 1779 Purysburg, initially a settlement of Swiss colonists trying to establish the silk trade, was occupied by Patriot forces. British forces under Brigadier General Prevost crossed the Savannah River and advanced on the village in Prevost's attempt to capture Charleston. On April 29, 1779, the two forces met near Purysburg. The contest delayed the British advance so that Patriot forces under General William Moultrie could escape to conduct a successful defense of Charleston.

Sheldon Church (1753, 1856)

- Revolutionary War Battlefield Sites & Historic Notable Locations
- 1 Battle of Purysburg and American post
  - 2 Savannah, Ga.
  - 3 Battle of Crosswatches
  - 4 Thomas Heyward, Jr.'s White Hall Plantation house
  - 5 British Ft. Mifflin
  - 6 Battle of Port Royal Island
  - 7 Battle at Saketcher (Peterson's Bridge)
  - 8 Prince William Parish Church "Sheldon"
  - 9 Battle of Tar Bluff
  - 10 Battle of Parker's Ferry
  - 11 Village of Jacksonboro, seat of SC Government 1782

Pon Pon Chapel of Ease - (1725) was one of two churches serving St. Bartholomew's Parish. In 1754 a brick chapel was erected to replace an earlier wooden structure. It was the home church for many of the local leaders in the Revolutionary War including Isaac Hayne and Aedanus Burke.

Colonel Isaac Hayne, Jr. - served in the Colleton County Regiment until captured and paroled in May 1780. The British later demanded that Hayne take up arms against the Patriots in violation of his parole. Hayne refused and rejoined the Patriot forces. He was captured and imprisoned in Charleston. Hayne was charged with treason and hanged on August 4, 1781. Buried in Jacksonborough in the family cemetery, he was called "a noble martyr on behalf of liberty."

Battle of Parker's Ferry - On August 10, 1781, Francis Marion's men lured the British into a classic ambush on a causeway near Parker's Ferry where they suffered 125 killed and 80 wounded compared to Patriot losses of one killed and three wounded. Parker's Ferry is the exemplar of Marion's guerilla warfare tactics which contribute to the extraordinary legend of the Swamp Fox.

The South Carolina General Assembly convened in Jacksonborough in early 1782. It's most important work was its decision to confiscate Loyalist estates. This volatile issue became more heated when John Laurens proposed that slaves from confiscated estates be enlisted in the Continental army. His proposal won few adherents, though an opponent noted that legislators fought a "hard Battle on the Subject of arming the Blacks."

Jim Capers

African American Revolutionary War Veteran

Jim Capers was born into slavery in South Carolina. During the American Revolution he served as a drummer for seven years participating in many major battles including Savannah, Port Royal, Camden, Eutaw Springs (where he was seriously wounded), and even Yorktown. Capers eventually obtained his freedom after the war. He died in Alabama at the age of 111. He was posthumously awarded a pension for his service.

★★★ Review Priorities

With needs across the state and limited resources, SC250 is giving priority to projects that:

1. Are specifically about the American Revolution in South Carolina 1770-1783.
2. Are from or have buy-in from the local County 250 Committee.
3. Demonstrate partnerships and matching funds (exceeding the required match amount is encouraged).
4. Have a clear budget and thought-out project plans (especially for site grant applications).
5. Demonstrate impact and longevity.

Telling a More Complete Story

To the Council of South Carolina

The memorial of Peter Harris Warrior of the Cataba nation, in the war of Independence,

I am one of the lingering embers
of an almost extinguished race, but graves will soon be our only habitations. I am one of the few stalks, that still remain in the field, where the tempest of the revolution passed, I fought against the British for your sake, the British have disappeared, and you are free, yet from me
the British took nothing, nor have I gained any thing by their defeat, I pursued the deer for my subsistence, the deer are disappearing, I must starve God ordained me for the forest, and my ambition is the shade, but the strength of my arm decays, and my feet fail
in the chase, the hand which fought for your liberties, ~~the hand which fought~~

17

is now open for your relief -
In my youth, I bled in battle, that you might be independant, let not my heart in my old age, bleed, for the want of your Commiseration

Narrative Best Practices:

- Use Word Version to Practice (Watch character count)

Project Summary

- 1) Elevator Speech
- 2) How does it relate to the American Revolution in SC?

Deliverables / Impact

- 1) Deliverables (What?) - Tangible items that can be provided by the grant budget. Pro Tip: # Items
- 2) Measurement of Success Pro Tip: # Items
- 3) Longevity (Why?)

Budget Best Practices:

- Don't create the budget based on the most amount available.
- Do your homework – get quotes.
- Not all budget categories may be compatible with your grant type. Feel free to skip a section. For example: we do not expect to see land acquisition in the County 250 Organizing Grants.
- If the grant request amount is part of a larger budget, please only include SC250 funding requests in each breakdown section.
- Make sure to not exceed the total amount available for this grant type in the breakdown SC250 request sections. This up to amount is listed on the Funding Opportunity main page.
- For the County 250 Organizing Grants, the SC250 Requested Amount must total $3000 exactly. (However, the total budget could be larger if you have additional funding from other sources. If there are any additional funds in your total budget, document them in the Cost Share / Matching Funds section.)
- Personnel refers to staffing, while contractual refers to any person you are hiring for a specific task.
- Personnel (administrative overhead and planning) should represent no more than 20% of the budget request. Limit this when you can.
- Please limit food in your budget. It is a great opportunity for partnership!

Partnerships / Matching Funds

Even if not “required” to apply, SC250 encourages Cost Share!

- If your grant does require a match, remember that the percentage is part of the total budget not % of your ask.

Matching Funds

The formula for calculating the match is:

SC250 Award Amount = Adjusted (Total) Project Costs
SC250 Share Percentage

Required Recipient's Share Percentage x Adjusted Project Costs = Required Match

Example: 80%/20% match requirement—for a SC250 award amount of $300,000, match would be calculated as follows:

$$\frac{$300,000}{.80} = $375,000$$

$$.20 \times $375,000 = $75,000 \text{ match}$$
